

Raffy R. Luquis

- 2023 SOPHE President
- Interim Director, School of Behavioral Sciences and Education at Penn State Harrisburg
- Received his bachelor's and master's from Penn State, and his doctorate from the University of Arkansas
- Primary research and teaching interests include cultural competency and multicultural health, public health education and health promotion
- Co-editor of the book entitled "Cultural Competence in Health Education and Health Promotion" and has numerous publications and national presentations at conferences in his areas of expertise

